

HANDBAG

with an all-over pattern

Autumn is in full swing and I received another order for the production of a handbag. This time, the task was to coordinate the color so that it can be worn with blue and gray jeans, brown shoes and that it can be nicely organized inside. The look and feel was up to me.

I chose the medium size of the handbag and the all-over ornament in gray on a chocolate brown background. I used light blue and apple green elements to liven it up. I chose a dark brown lining with seven pockets.
